Attractions of Panchgani

- Sydney Point is a hillock that views the Krishna Valley.
- Table Land is best visited in early winter when the monsoon grass is still there and the land is not as slick as it is during the rainy season.
- Parsi Point: On the route to Mahabaleshwar, this lovely picnic area overlooks the Krishna valley and the blue glittering water of the Dhom Dam.
- Devil's Kitchen: The Pandavas from the Mahabharat epic are said to have stayed here and cooked their meals. Pandavgad Caves are also reported to have been created by them (near Wai).
- Mala's Fruit Products: Mala's is known for making some of India's greatest jams. The term "JAM" was coined by Malas in India. Panchgani is Mala's Fruit's hometown.
- Sherbaug: It's a beautiful spot in Panchgani's hill station where you may see swans, bunnies, and turkeys.
- The Rajpuri Caves are surrounded by several holy ponds. Bathing in the holy ponds, pilgrims think, will cure them of all illnesses.

Many exquisite colonial British buildings, Parsi houses, natural beauty, and boarding schools can all be located here. Book a good hotel in Panchgani and continue your adventure with us. For more contact us at <http://jivantahotel.com/>
